Speaking

This is a model test, the candidate will receive the pictures and the examiner will ask different questions.

Part I

The candidate enters the room.

The examiner: Hello. My name's Ms Johnson.

The candidate: Hello. I'm Jane.

The examiner: How old are you, Jane?

The candidate: Ten.

The examiner: Now look at these pictures. They look the same, but some things are different.

Here is a clock but there is no clock.

What other different things can you see?

Here the child must describe four other differences.

For example:

In the first picture, the girl who is drinking juice has a sandwich on the plate.

In the second picture, the girl has a burger.

In the first picture, there is a girl who is waiting to be served.

In the second picture, there is a boy.

In the first picture, there is a blonde girl with pigtails.

In the second picture, there is a red-haired girl with pigtails.

In the first picture, there is a glass of juice on the table.

Part II

The examiner: Now look at these pictures. They show a story. It's called 'Adventures in the Forest'.

Look at the pictures first. (Pause)

Look at the first one.

Mary (the red-haired girl), her sister Emma and their friend Charlie are in the forest. Mary and Emma are reading a map. Charlie set up the tent. Now you tell the story. (pointing at the other pictures)

Adventures in the Forest

The candidate can answer like this:

Emma found sticks in the forest to make a campfire.

Charlie successfully lit the fire, and the girls are happy. They are preparing marshmallows.

Mary goes to search for more sticks and encounters a bunny in the forest. Meanwhile, Emma is taking care of the fire.

Part III

The examiner shows the candidate Odd-one-out pictures.

Now look at these four pictures.

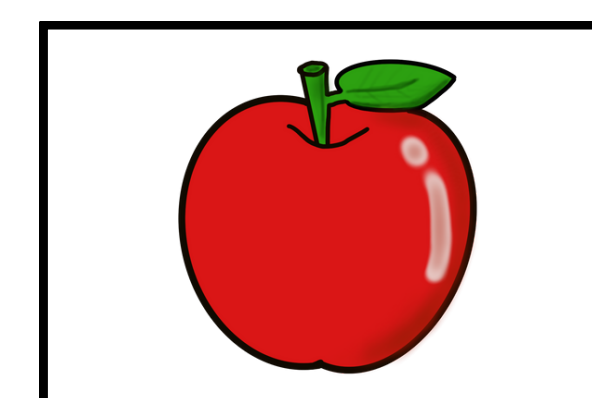

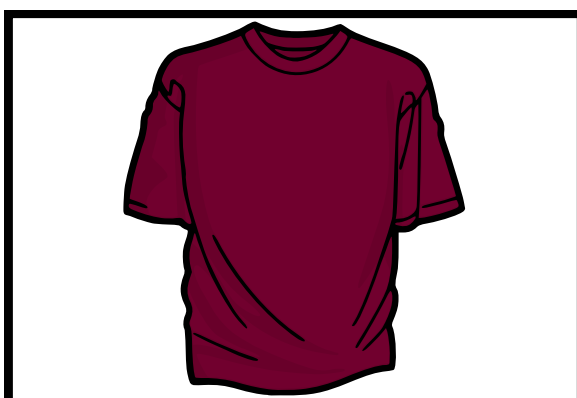

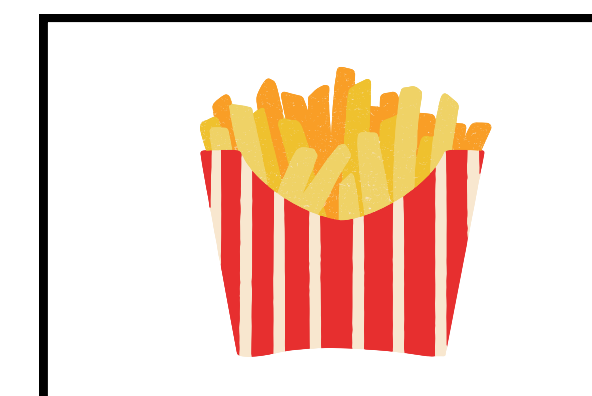

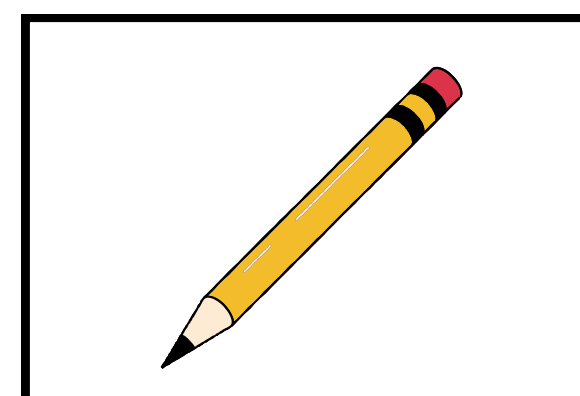

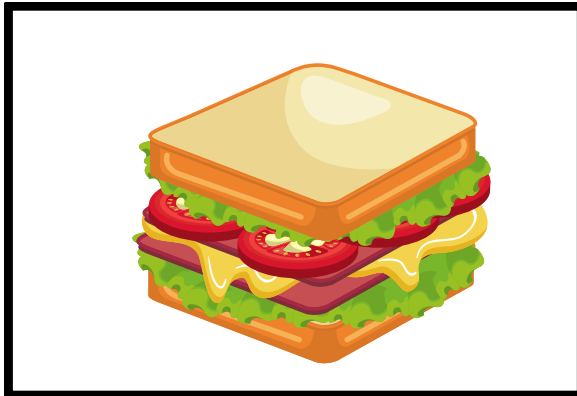

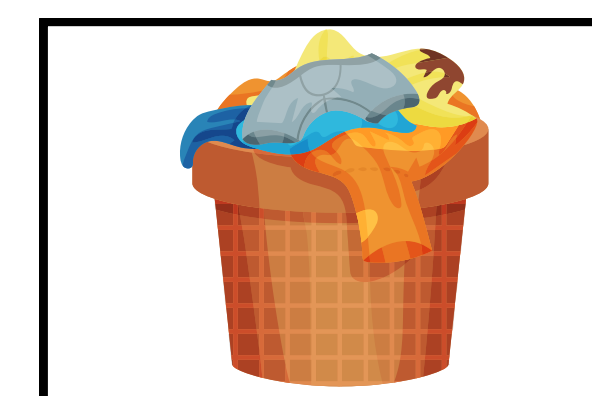

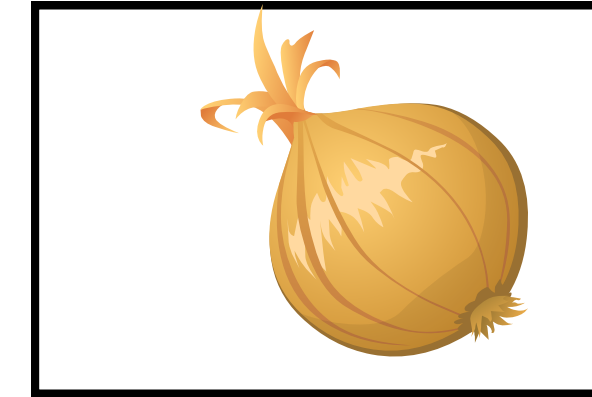

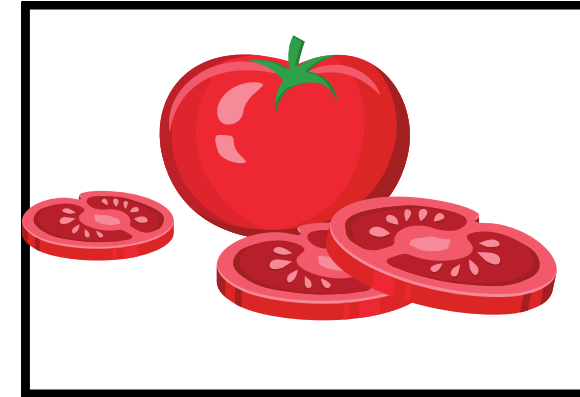

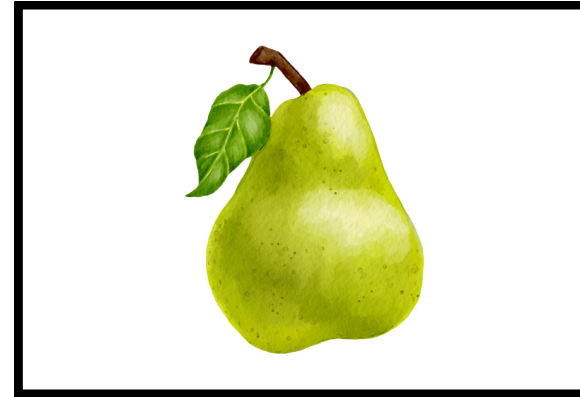

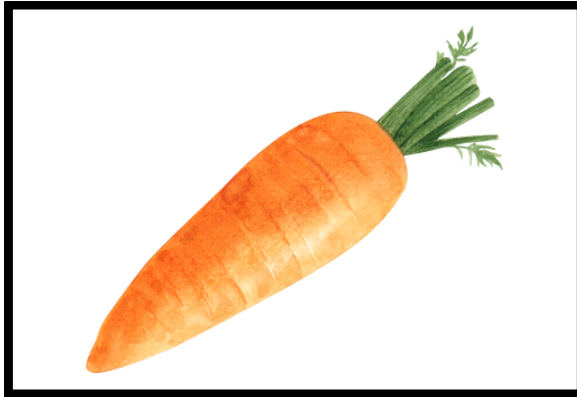

One is different. The pear is different.

A carrot, a tomato and an onion are vegetables. You use them to cook.

The pear is a fruit. You can eat it as it is.

Now you tell me about these pictures. Which one is different? (Why?)

Odd-one-out

The candidate suggests a difference (any plausible difference is acceptable).

- The clothes are dirty. These ones are clean.
- We can eat the sandwich, the pizza and the fries, but we can't eat the pencil. We use it to write or draw things.
- These are shorts. We can wear them with a T-shirt and a cap.
- The apple is a fruit.

Part IV

The Examiner puts away all pictures.

The examiner: Now let's talk about things you like.

- What drink do you like best for breakfast?

Possible answers: milk, juice.

- What's your favourite meal?

Possible answers: Pizza, pasta, fries ...

- Tell me about your best friend.

Possible answer: Her name's Juliette. She's got brown hair and green eyes.

The examiner: Okay, thank you. Goodbye, Jane.

Jane: Goodbye!
